

MOTOR YACHT SOLEMAR

Zytexx testimonial:

We firstly applied Zytexx to the hull of Solemar with the view to eliminate the exhaust smoke residue produced from the generators and main engines. The application process was quick and effective giving the protection that was needed on top of the paint works. The deck-team have paid homage to the ceramic coating as the hull paint is protected, wash down is less of an ordeal with an additional benefit of also cutting down on time washing. We have since applied additional ceramic coatings on the bridge deck, bulwark tops and fashion plates to protect against the sun's effects and protect against the main engine exhaust emissions. The coating is doing a fantastic job against all the elements so we look forward to applying Zytexx on further areas as and when required.

A big thanks to the team at Pro-Guard for the great application of the ceramic protective coating.
Great work!
