I had heard of this new Zytexx product and it interested me greatly as I have smoky diesels due to under loading and our hull was taking a huge toll of soot. Last summer we spent 5 man-hours per day just to keep the hull grey as opposed to black. In Jan we repainted the hull topsides just at the exhausts as they were so bad. But we had just forward of the exhaust bad paint from the downwind sail across the Atlantic crossing and this was still 3 year old paint.

In ST Maarten we Zytexx'd half the hull from the mast aft and below the cove line including the waterlines. Now the hull takes just one swipe of a brush dipped in the water to clean it, and no soap at all. So our 5 man-hours has reduced to 0.5 to just wipe the hull. As this was so successful we just Zytexx'd the stern transom and now this is very easy to clean also. We have only made one mistake, and that was not Zytexx'ing the whole hull.

I am just amazed at how good this product is. It has saved me so many man-hours and also means we can keep the boat cleaner for the Owners.

I welcome emails for confirmation of this product.

Yours Sincerely
